Arm Fitment on 2015 & Up Models

Q1: I am installing the 67660 rear lower control arm on my 2015 Subaru. I noticed the lower strut mounting hole is in a slightly different location. Will this cause a problem?

A1: The 10mm difference in the shock mounting point will have a negligible effect on ride height and/or spring rate. Even if you are using this arm on a stock vehicle and only installing it on one side, there should be no issues.
